

0 sed tion.org.

1 ill ■ The Arapahoe Community College Writers Studio will present “Writers on War: a Cultural Conversation” at 7 p.m. Monday in the Half Moon Room in the Main campus building, 5900 S. Santa Fe Drive, Littleton.

2 English faculty member/Denver Poet Laureate Chris Ransick will be host to the readings and discussion with authors Nick Arvin, Anushka Anastasia Solomon and Rawdon Tomlinson.

3 up Arvin is the author of the award-winning book, “Articles of War,” the story of Pvt. Eddie Slovik, the only American executed for desertion in World War II. Solomon is a former Colorado Voices columnist and poet, in voluntary exile from Malaysia since converting to Christianity in 1998. Tomlinson,

4 a poet and past Colorado Book Award winner, wrote “Geronimo After Kas-Ki-yeh.” Free and open to the public.

■ “Magic Moments’ All This and WWII,” annual musical revue, will play Thursday through Sunday at Littleton High School’s Main Stage, with performers from throughout the south metro area. The event raises money for organizations that assist people with physical and developmental disabilities and offers those from that community who want to perform an opportunity to be onstage. Tickets: $18, $15, 303-607-7555 or email info@magicmomentsinc.org.

■ “To the East of Prague” is the theme for the Littleton Symphony Orchestra in its 7:30 p.m. Friday concert at Littleton United Methodist Church, 5894